

Pen & Ink Renderings

This traditional rendering style is ideal for plan coversheets and black and white publications. It is an economical way of communicating the architecture to laymen. Working from your CAD drawings, we simplify the elevation or plan, or create a 3D model for the purpose of view selection. The clean drawing is then passed on to the artist for the application of texture, shading and nomenclature. Completed renderings are usually delivered electronically, though print and CD outputs are available
